

EATING DISORDER ANALYSIS

DISORDER	DESCRIPTION
Anorexia Nervosa	Anorexia Nervosa is an eating disorder characterised by voluntary starvation. Anorexia nervosa is a complex disease, involving psychological, sociological and physiological components. A person who is suffering from anorexia is known as an 'anorexic'
Bulimia Nervosa	Bulimia Nervosa is a psychological condition in which the subject engages in recurrent binge eating. This binge-eating is followed by intentionally vomiting, inappropriate use of laxatives, enemas, diuretics or other medication, excessive exercising and / or fasting. A person is classified as bulimic when he or she feels incapable of controlling the urge to binge, even during the binge itself, and when such behavior occurs at least twice per week for three months.
Orthorexia Nervosa	Orthorexia Nervosa is an eating disorder where the subject has an unhealthy obsession with healthy eating The subject may avoid certain types of food, such as those containing fats, preservatives or animal products. As a result, the sufferer may become as dangerously thin as those suffering from anorexia.